their efforts to cover, and with the help of some large bull luring in both New Orleans and New York stimulated by a buoyant Liverpool, they succeeded in accomplishing what seemed heartshie. During the early session in our mirkets large furing the early session in our mirkets large furing the early session in our mirkets large fur his was seen around the opening, principally from shorts, and the pressure to sell which followed indicated that top prices had been reached, but hater a large Boston house, together with brokers who represent strong Providence spinding interests, came into the New York market and took all the Mars offered, huging in unimited quanticies. This large buying created a wild stampede from the South, and buying or both accounts was sent into the markets from all sections. The future markets added strength to the spot position, a large business being done in all markets, with quotations advanced 10 points in New York, isc in New Orleans and 3-10c in Houston and Galveston.

There is a new deal on in cotton. It is no longer a thing that can be hammared and kicked around at the will of a few market manipulators. It is a comm dity that a properous world needs to cover their backs, and is as essential to living as food for their stomeths. We are becoming market manipulators. A sharp reaction now seems in cript to use, although there is not a slogic feature, which, in our opinion, can be called bearish.

Carquit & Richardson's Letter.

Homstou, Texas, February 8.—It was a ferce strusgle smoog the hears in cotton today. They tumbled over each other in today. They tumbled over each other in important Levant inquiry. The continued demand for spots is the strongest feature in the situation. If there is no curtailment in this inquiry values may improve fur ther. The higher prices advance the more optimistic does sentiment become, notwith standing defiveries are ranging from 8.20 to 8.40. Such agures certainly discount agreat deal. However, sentiment is very builtsh, but the liberal receipts and the possibility of was between itussia and Turkey are factors which may change the existing feeling when least expected, therefore, we suggest that our friends from how on should trade conservatively.

J. N. Wisner & Co., Letter. Houston, Texas, February 9. - A very fa vorable Liverpool induced a fairly good opening in America, but good weather and fair receipts, combined with heavy liquiging and undecided tendency. During the afternoon a runit of shorts to cover and I frosh buying by large buil interests caused a scramble and firm closing at practically the highest values of the season. The spot demand continues good, and as liquidation has been constantly in progress, and as sales for short account have increased, the impression is general that a further advance will be seen.

It is well, however, to consider the protracted and decided emanacement of values, and atmosph sentiment is distinctly bullish reactions may excit.
